LESSON PLAN by: Laura Ahnert

Lesson: #1: Introduction/ Rhyme Scheme

Length: 47 minutes

Age or Grade Intended: 10th Grade English

Academic Standard(s):

10.3.7 Evaluate the significance of various literary devices

Performance Objectives:

Given a set of questions, the students will evaluate the poem “Phenomenal Woman,” by Maya Angelou for 10 participation points for the day (as discussed in the assessment section).

Assessment: I will assess the students’ understanding of the poem and of the concept of rhyme scheme by having them fill out a worksheet in groups. I will give the students 10 participation points for the day by walking around from group to group with a roster, marking the students who are participating. These students will receive 5 points for participating in the group discussion. Every student whose name is on the sheet will receive 5 participation points for turning the sheet in

Advanced Preparation by Teacher:

- Make copies of “Phenomenal Woman” poem
- Do background research on Maya Angelou
- Find pictures of Maya Angelou
- Make questions worksheet
- Print enough questions worksheet for 1 per group.

Procedure:

Introduction/Motivation: Display the pictures of Maya Angelou on the screen. (M.I. Visual) Ask if anyone knows who this woman is, and why she is important. Have the students get out a sheet of paper and quick write about who they think this woman is, why she is important, and what she has to do with poetry. (Anticipatory activity)

Step-by-Step Plan:

2. Give background information about Maya Angelou
3. Tell the students that we are now going to read this poem, looking for rhyme scheme.
Rhyme scheme - a repeated pattern of end rhymes; usually marked with letters of the alphabet (ABBA would mark a rhyme scheme in the first stanza of, say, dog/man/plan/fog; CDDC would mark a rhyme scheme in the second stanza of, say, map/press/dress/slap).

Example of rhyme scheme:

- There once was a big brown cat \( a \)
- That liked to eat a lot of mice. \( b \)
- He got all round and fat \( a \)
- Because they tasted so nice.

3. Read the poem aloud to the students. (M.I. Verbal/Linguistic)

4. After reading the poem, ask the students to point out examples of where they saw rhyme scheme in the poem.

   (ex: “secret lies/ model’s size,” “hips/lips,” “please/ knees/ bees,” “teeth/ feet”)

5. Have the students number off by 4s.

6. Have the students get into their number groups. (M.I. Interpersonal)

7. Pass out the worksheet to each group.

8. Tell the groups they are to fill out the sheets as a group. Everyone should put their name on it!

9. Give the groups 10 minutes to fill out the worksheet.

10. When the groups are finished, have a member from each group read their answers aloud to the class.

11. Collect the sheets

Closure: Today we learned about the life and poetry of Dr. Maya Angelou. What did we look for in her poem? (Rhyme Scheme) Next class we will be looking at some more vocabulary for poetry.

Adaptations/Enrichment:

For LD students who struggle in language arts, I will read the poem as they follow along with my voice. This will help to work on their reading and listening skills.

Self-Reflection:

What parts of my lesson went particularly well?

What parts did not go well?

What could I have done differently?

How do I know my students are ready to move on to other material?

Phenomenal Woman

Pretty women wonder where my secret lies.
I'm not cute or built to suit a fashion model's size
But when I start to tell them,
They think I'm telling lies.
I say,
It's in the reach of my arms
The span of my hips,
The stride of my step,
The curl of my lips.
I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

I walk into a room
Just as cool as you please,
And to a man,
The fellows stand or
Fall down on their knees.
Then they swarm around me,
A hive of honey bees.
I say,
It's the fire in my eyes,
And the flash of my teeth,
The swing in my waist,
And the joy in my feet.
I'm a woman
Phenomenally.
Phenomenal woman,
That's me.

Men themselves have wondered
What they see in me.
They try so much
But they can't touch
My inner mystery.
When I try to show them
They say they still can't see.
I say,
It's in the arch of my back,
The sun of my smile,
The ride of my breasts,
The grace of my style.
    I'm a woman

    Phenomenally.
    Phenomenal woman,
        That's me.

    Now you understand
Just why my head's not bowed.
    I don't shout or jump about
    Or have to talk real loud.
When you see me passing
    It ought to make you proud.
    I say,
It's in the click of my heels,
The bend of my hair,
    the palm of my hand,
The need of my care,
    'Cause I'm a woman
    Phenomenally.
    Phenomenal woman,
        That's me
